

The three characteristics of pressure sensitive adhesive- tack, softness and thickness all play a part in the ability of the adhesive to perform in a cleanroom mat application. The very common sense conclusion that “the higher the tack the better it should work” does not apply. The adhesive softness and thickness actually play a much larger role in the performance of the matting.